Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 10,11,13, 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gellert et al.

Gellert et al. disclose an injection molding apparatus comprising a manifold 12 having a channel 10 undergoing a change of direction from an inlet to an outlet and being aligned with a nozzle channel of a nozzle 14, a mold cavity 18 for receiving said melt stream, a valve pin 82 extending through a bore provided in said manifold and through said nozzle channel, said valve pin being movable to selectively open and close said mold gate, a guide (bushing) 38 projecting from an inner wall of said manifold channel and integrally formed with the inner wall of the manifold channel and diametrically opposing said inlet for restricting the flow of said melt stream, said guide being located behind said valve pin and abutting a portion of said valve pin.

Applicant's arguments filed June 25, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues the sealing bushing of Gellert is a separate part and therefore is not integrally formed with an inner wall of the manifold channel. The Examiner disagrees. When the manifold of Gellert is formed or produced, the bushing is inserted into the manifold wall and becomes an integral part of the manifold. More specifically, the bushing is integrally formed (fastened via a friction fit) with the inner wall of the manifold channel to become the apparatus shown in Fig. 1. See re Hotte (CCPA) 177 USPQ 326 where "integral" is sufficiently broad to embrace constructions united by such means as fastening and welding. In addition, see In re Kohno (CCPA) 157 USPQ 581 where "integral" is not necessarily restricted to a one-piece article.

Claims 1-9, 14-16 are allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
